HOME PAPER AS MIRROR OF TOWN.

The time has gone by when the publisher of any newspaper, even of the humblest country weekly, goes around asking support out of personal friendship.

But the public ought to realize just the same, that the prosperity and progress of its town is judged by outsiders by the kind of newspaper product that is sent out to represent it.

A town with poorly printed, ill written, and generally slovenly newspapers is universally judged to be on the toboggan. A town with enterprising looking sheets gives an impression that there is enterprise in the town that creates the good looking journal.

When a man pays down his dollar for a subscription to his home paper, or for advertising in its columns, he is at the same time advertising his home town to the outlying country and neighboring cities.

The more a newspaper's subscriptions and advertising increases, the more features the publisher can add, the laster he can improve his mechanical equipment, the more nearly can he come to realizing his ideals of newspaper making.

If the courts seem as friendly to the corporations in the McCaskey company people Thursday, Gompers-Mitchell-Morrison case, as they did to the East Ohio Gas Company case the three accused men cannot hope for much relief in law, or even for a much longer stay of execution.

Genius Hidden In

By MAX NORDAU, French Author.

*************E are on all sides surrounded by exalted and touching exhibitions of virtue on the part of humanity. Everything speaks to us of GREAT AND NOBLE QUAL-ITIES POSSESSED BY MAN. Every invention, an engine at the North secondary and for example, speaks of his ingenious mind and his was severely cut and brutsed. The skillfulness; every science of his talent for patient observation and his earnest, instinctive desire for truth; every fact in the history of morality of his unselfish goodness of heart and his loving regard for his fellow creatures.

I used to be of the opinion that the entire white race of man might be THROWN BACK TO THE STANDARD OF THE MIDDLE AGES or even still farther back if only the heads were struck off the ten thousand or more conspicuously clever who seemed to be the sole real upholders of our civilization. Now, however, I no longer hold that view.

THE SUPERIOR QUALITIES OF HUMANITY ARE NOT THE EX-CLUSIVE INHERITANCE OF A FEW WHO FORM THE EXCEPTIONS, BUT FUNDAMENTAL ATTRIBUTES WHICH ARE EVENLY DIS-TRIBUTED THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE MASS OF THE RACE JUST AS ARE THE ORGANS AND TISSUES, JUST AS ARE THE BLOOD AND BRAIN MATERIAL AND BONES.

No doubt in individual instances there are more than the average, but in EVERY CASE THERE ARE SOME.

Despair Faces Rescuers; Fire Drives Them Back

Rioting Expected When Fact is Known That All Men in Mine are Dead-Troops Summoned.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 16-Despair has seized the rescurers trying to members and the final arrangements reach the 384 men entombed in the St. Paul mine here. Science, bravery and skill have utterly failed in the fight for life.

Eighty-three hours of fighting has only added to the horror of the disaster. Twice have the rescurers been worsted by the fire. One chosen nor when the work of tearing more desperate attempt will be made by the fire fighters tomorrow. Hope has already been abandoned by some of the experts. A menced, few think some of the men may be safe and may live for weeks yet.

Intense cold does not stop the vigil of the women. For three s and four nights they have watched beside the shafts. They are as for the dead but hope is still faintly alive in their hearts. That all the men in the mines are dead seems beyond doubt and the authorities fear rioting when this becomes known, or when the street. The fight started over the deremoval of the bodies begins.

Gov. Deneen tonight ordered a company of militia from Kewance to come here.

Two companies of militia from Galesburg and one from Kewanee arrived here at midnight and are stationed at the St. Paul mine entrance to prevent any demonstration when the bodies of the 384 are brought to the surface.

Practically none of the rescue party tonight believes any of the entombed men are alive. The temperature at the top of the shaft at railroaders living in Brewster if they midnight was higher than earlier in the day. It is doubtful if anyone can venture into the mine tomorrow as planned.
